The Service Cooperatives belonging to Ancst-Legacoop today number more than 2.500, with a total turnover of more than 7,325,000,000 euros in 2006. They offer a wide range of services – transport, goods transportation, catering, cleaning, hygiene and sanitary, cultural programs/projects. They are companies employing large numbers of people that have shown important progress in the area of skills development. As a result of the choices over the last years to modernize and diversify in this sector, they have been able to offer advanced quality services, becoming a leader nationally, both in volume and professionalism. Today, Service Cooperatives are an essential component of the tertiary industry sector being developed by the Public Administrations, industry and retailing, and as well, they are the primary players in proposing top quality services for customers and users, providing services to meet both traditional and the new needs coming from industry and society.

CNS - CONSORZIO NAZIONALE SERVIZI

The CNS – National Consortium of Services – is a cooperative company joint to the National League of Cooperatives (1) and incorporating more than 200 firms, that has worked since 1977 as supplier of services to the civil and local services, to the Public Institutions and to the firms. The CNS contracts services subsequently carried out by the joint cooperatives; therefore, it acts as an administrative and commercial body of coordination, which makes use of the technical and organisational structure and of the highly professional specialisation of its joint cooperatives. The turnover of the CNS is equal to more than 375 million Euro, while the overall turnover produced by its joint cooperatives is equal to about 1.550 million Euro. Some of them have all the peculiarities of national firms with turnovers that exceeds 90 million Euro. These are located through all Italy and are among the best the domestic market can offer in terms of tradition, applied technology and professional specialisation. The joint cooperatives ensure best results, a strict management of the services to be carried out and the quality levels expressly required by the clients. Organisation in various sectors, national coordination and a well distributed skill of intervention at national level are the distinguishing factors that allow the CNS to offer, at each step of the work, not only the single service but a wide range of supplies and integrated services.
